

Website Service Agreement

Between Velvet Dinosaur (“we”, “us”) and the customer named in the order (“you”, “your”).

Version 2.0 — August 2026. Governed by the law of England and Wales.

The short version: we design and build your new website before you pay anything. You try it free for 14 days. If you subscribe, it costs £99 per month, everything included, for an initial 12 months — then rolling monthly, leave with 30 days’ notice. Your first 30 days are covered by our money-back guarantee. Your domain, content, and data are always yours.

1 The service

For £99 per month we provide a fully managed website for your business:

- a professionally designed website shaped around your business, brand, services, and content;
- your own administration area (our Sauro CMS) to edit pages, text, photos, prices, opening hours, news, and more — though you never have to use it, and can simply ask us to make changes;
- business tools included at no extra cost: contact forms, a central enquiry inbox, and — where appropriate for your business — an integrated booking system;
- hosting, SSL certificate, daily backups, security maintenance, software updates, and monitoring;
- email for your domain, and connection of your social media profiles;
- a standard business domain registered in your name (subject to a reasonable annual registration cost), which remains yours;
- support by email, chat, telephone, video call, our support system, or in person where practical.

There is no setup fee and no build fee — ever.

2 The free 14-day demonstration

Before you commit to anything, we build a working demonstration of your new website and send you a private sign-up link. You set your own password and can try everything — edit text, replace images, test the forms, try the booking system, and view it all on your phone.

- The demonstration lasts 14 days and costs nothing.
- It is private: hidden from search engines and only reachable via its link.
- If you decide not to proceed, the demonstration and everything in it is deleted. That is the end of it — no obligation and no chasing.

3 Subscribing and launching

- When you subscribe, you agree to this agreement and an initial term of 12 months at £99 per month, payable monthly in advance.
- We then spend up to seven days refining the site with you — photographs, colours, wording, layout, opening hours — by whichever channel suits you.
- Once you approve it, your site launches on your own domain. Launch can happen sooner than seven days if you are happy earlier.

4 Our 30-day money-back guarantee

We want you to stay because you value the service, not because you regret signing a contract. If, during your first 30 days as a subscriber, you decide Velvet Dinosaur is not right for your business, tell us. We will cancel the service and refund everything you have paid us.

This is our own guarantee to you, given deliberately as a business. It sits alongside — and does not replace — any statutory rights you may have.

5 After the first 12 months

When your initial term ends, you choose:

- Continue. Your service rolls on monthly at the same £99 per month, and you may cancel at any time with 30 days' notice. Nothing else changes and there are no year-two fees.
- Refresh & Renew. Renew for another 12 months and we will redesign your website completely, free of charge. Your content, bookings, customers, and settings stay exactly as they are — only the design is refreshed. You get a refinement period before the new design launches, just like your first launch.

6 What is yours

Your business. Your data. Your domain. You retain ownership of:

- your domain name;
- your branding, photographs, and written content;
- your business data — enquiries, bookings, customer details, and CMS content — which you may ask us to export for you at any time.

The website runs on our Sauro platform (the software, CMS, and tooling we build and maintain). The platform itself remains ours — what runs on it, and everything you put into it, is yours. If you leave, we will provide a practical export of your content and data and reasonable help with your transition.

7 What we may quote separately

The monthly price covers the website and the standard platform tools described in section 1. Work that is genuinely bespoke to your business alone — for example, integrating your website with your own internal systems, databases, or accounting software — is outside the standard service. If you ever want something like that, we will quote it separately and plainly before doing anything. You are never charged extra without agreeing it first.

8 Paying us

- £99 per month, payable monthly in advance from the date you subscribe.
- If a payment fails, we will let you know and retry before anything else happens. If payment is not made within 14 days of its due date, we may pause the website until it is — we will always warn you first.
- We may change the monthly price only with at least 60 days' written notice, and any change takes effect no earlier than the start of your next renewal term.

9 Ending the service

- Within your first 30 days: cancel under the money-back guarantee (section 4) for a full refund.
- During the initial 12 months: the service continues to the end of the initial term, after which either of us may end it with 30 days' notice.
- After the initial term: cancel any time with 30 days' notice.
- When the service ends, we keep an export of your content and data available to you for 30 days, and your domain is transferred or pointed wherever you choose.
- We may end the service immediately only for something serious — unlawful use of the site, or a fundamental breach of this agreement — and we will always try to resolve things with you first.

10 Being sensible with each other

- You promise that the content you give us (text, photographs, logos) is yours to use, and that your website will not be used for anything unlawful.
- We promise to look after your website and your data carefully, to keep the software updated and secure, and to tell you promptly if something goes wrong that affects you.
- We process personal data in line with UK data protection law, only to provide the service, and we delete demonstration data as described in section 2.
- Neither of us is liable for losses that are not reasonably foreseeable, and nothing in this agreement limits liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence, or for fraud.
- Our total liability to you in any 12-month period is limited to the amounts you have paid us in that period.

11 The legal bits, plainly

- This agreement is between you and Velvet Dinosaur only; nobody else has rights under it.
- It is governed by the law of England and Wales, and the courts of England and Wales have exclusive jurisdiction.
- If any part of this agreement is found unenforceable, the rest still stands.
- This document, together with your order, is the whole agreement between us about the service.
